2016 ENE Scholarships

EASTERN NEW ENGLAND CHAPTER SCHOLARSHIPS

The Eastern New England Chapter of The Ninety-Nines, International Organization of Women Pilots, announces three 2016 scholarships available for women and men studying for a career in aviation or training in aviation.

The Eastern New England Scholarships for 2016 are:

- ENE Honorary Scholarship:
$1,500 Open to both men and women*
- William Bridge Scholarship:
$1,500 Open to women with at least a private pilot's certificate*
- Ann Wood Kelly Memorial Scholarship:
$1,500 Open to women with at least a private pilot's certificate*

All scholarships require a New England connection. The applicant must be either a resident of one of the six New England states, or studying in New England. For questions and applications for all three scholarships, email your request to blakeley.vanessa@gmail.com.

News From a 2015 Scholarship Winner

This is news from Piper Sigrest — 2015 recipient of the Jean Batchelder Honorary Scholarship.

"I am having a truly amazing time at SpaceX! I really enjoy my work and my team, and I'm learning so much! I also just got back from Green River, Utah, for the Intercollegiate Rocketry Engineering Challenge. My team successfully launched our rocket to 9,690 feet (target altitude of 10,000) and recovered both the rocket booster and the payload. We won first place in our category, and are all so excited and proud :)"

Fly-In, Katama, August 30

Mary Ellen Page hosted her final summer fly-in, as her house near Katama Airport has been sold. From the pictures sent by Margot Cheel, it looks like a good time for all who attended!
