ENE Holiday Gathering Sunday Dec 11

To my Sister 99s,

Given the recent tragedy that befell Candie Oldham, we paused to consider cancelling or postponing our holiday party coming up Sunday. I personally did not feel in the mood to be festive, and my first inclination was to cancel. But there is something wonderful and amazing about this sisterhood we belong to. We need this time to come together, to celebrate our amazing family. So so many have volunteered to do anything they can to help. While we were coordinating care, a group of us 99s were deliberating a plan, saying what about this, have you thought about that...an observer to our process was literally in tears, amazed how much we cared and how many of us there were lined up to help.

Please join us this Sunday in celebration of our sisterhood. Our gathering will be scaled back, no prize for the most festive, no Elfster Zoom. If you have an Elfster gift, bring it and find out who your secret elf was, but we are not doing a group Elfster event. If you can't make it to the gathering, your Elf will send you your gift in the mail. We will still be having a Yankee Swap. Bring a wrapped gift to participate (and please don't make me the only one to bring gift)!

I will be bringing the Auction items I have to deliver to winners.

Please bring a dish or drink to share. We need to come together. Most importantly, Candie has been consulted, and she wants us to, so come together for Candie!

Hope to see you Sunday, 12-3, doors open at 11. The address is Cohasset Lightkeepers Cottage, 16 Lighthouse Lane, Cohasset, MA.

So Proud to Be Your Chair,

Beth

Update on Candie's Condition

Due to HIPPA and other privacy considerations, only general information can be shared. Candie has approved the following:

Candie did well with her surgery yesterday. Her doctors say no more surgery is scheduled.

They're taking tubes out from her. They are already discussing a move to rehab, likely on the Cape.
